BLOW IN THE FACE OF PRES. HARAHAH

Delivered By Stuyvesant Fish
At Board Meeting

Illinois Central Directors Have Exhibition of Manly Art Presented.

THE WORD LIAR IS PASSED.

New York, Aug. 29.—There was a regular meeting of the directors of the Illinois Central Railway company at No. 11 Broadway at the end of which President James T. Harahan called former President Stuyvesant Fish a liar and Mr. Fish struck President Harahan three stunning blows in the face.

Robert Golet, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Charles A. Peabody, fellow directors in the corporation, separated the combatants as Mr. Fish was about to deliver his fourth blow. With blood streaming down his countenance, President Harahan rushed from the office and caught a train for Chicago.

Mr. Fish, smiling genially and without a scratch, walked away after shaking hands with several adherents, and went up town in a triumphal hack.

Less than a year ago Mr. Fish was president of the Illinois Central. E. H. Harriman stepped in— with a past record of similar successes— to lend him confidence, stole away the most of the pro-Fish proxies and prevented the re-election of the multi-millionaire Knickerbocker to the presidency of the road.

That provoked Mr. Fish somewhat, he having held undisputed sway of the railroad line up to that time, but when Mr. Harriman elected James T. Harahan in his place, the provocation changed to anger.

Mr. Fish was the more indignant because he thought Mr. Harahan all along his friend. The Harriman directors had come to say that the Illinois Central was doing very finely— more freight and passengers than its rolling stock could attend to, millions rolling in, to the thousands rolling out— everything prosperous and serene— with the smiling President Harahan, presiding in the president's chair to prove it.

Stuyvesant Fish walked into the middle of the meeting with much long-cherished hatred sizzling under his smiling lips. He took a chair and listened to the outpourings of President Harahan.

The session was half over when he arose and politely begged permission to submit a resolution to the board.

The resolution couched in the ambiguous terms of belligerent capitalists, called virtually for an investigation of the Harriman regime— from the day Stuyvesant Fish was disposed. It was of vital questions, and charged several unsavory things.

Mr. Fish was in the midst of its most ferocious paragraph when Robert Golet got up in a panic and moved that the board adjourn.

Mr. Peabody seconded it in a hurry. Harahan whacked his mallet, declared the motion carried and put on his hat.

"I am not through yet," said Mr. Fish very tensely. "I would like to get this resolution before the board."

"The meeting is adjourned," announced President Harahan.

"It's a snap adjournment," rejoined Mr. Fish.

"The gentleman is out of order for the meeting is adjourned," said Mr. Harahan.

"It's an outrage," thundered back Mr. Fish, but before he could proceed further with his resolution the majority of the directors had put on their hats and were working toward the outer door.

The former president advanced upon his successors:

"You don't dare let this resolution be read," he shouted angrily.

And Harahan shouted back:

"You're a liar."

Stuyvesant Fish stands 6 feet 3 inches in his stockings and carried a weight to match.

He advanced toward Harahan, who made a move as to thrust his right hand into his hip pocket. Fish caught the hand half way.

Then he let go a blow with his free left arm that caught the president of the Illinois Central full on the jaw and sent him staggering. Another thundered after it. The third knocked Mr. Harahan against his official seat at the head of the PARLIAMENT.

London, Aug. 29.—With picturesque old-time ceremonial the British parliament was prorogued today, thus ending one of the longest and most arduous sessions during which the royal assent was given to over sixty bills which the late houses passed.

AMERICAN BAR.

Portland, Me., Aug. 29.—The nominating committee of the American Bar association reported the list of officers and the report was adopted as follows:

President, J. M. Dickinson Chicago; secretary, John Binkley, Baltimore; treasurer, Frederick E. Wadhams, New York. The convention then adjourned.

NELSON MORRIS.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The funeral service for the late Nelson Morris, millionaire Chicago packer, was held at 11 o'clock this morning at his home for members of the family, and public service was conducted at 1 o'clock at Abraham Lincoln Central, presided over by the Rev. HAD $4,000.

New York, Aug. 29.—Despite the fact that the entire police force is searching for him, no trace has yet been found of Stewart Heideback, the wealthy manufacturer of Cincinnati, who disappeared Monday. The fact that he had about $4,000 in his possession when he disappeared, has increased the apprehension of relatives.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt and President Diaz simultaneously have telegraphed notes to the presidents of the five republics of Central America offering the good offices of the United States and Mexico in bringing about a conference of the republics for a discussion of plans to maintain peace. This announcement was made today by Acting Secretary Adee, of the state department. The exact time of sending the notes was not made known, but it is possible that replies from some of the countries already have reached Washington, and it is believed that all will be here within twenty-four hours.

TELEGRAPHERS.

New York, Aug. 29.—The great question of whether the telegraphers employed by brokers will be called out is still unsettled. A meeting called for yesterday afternoon to take action, was postponed until this afternoon.

desk with an impact that sent it skidding against the far wall of the room.

Golet and Vanderbilt were between the two, however, before Mr. Harahan had a chance to reply. His face was already swollen. But his eyes held a glimmer which showed he was ready to counter on Fish, who stood ready enough to meet him.

Soothing words from the intervening directors, however, reminded the fighters that the Illinois Central board room is not the spot for physical jousts.

But Fish held his place, glaring at the other until President Harahan had been hustled away. Then he chuckled as he wrapped a handkerchief about a bruised right knuckle and walked out with friends to a waiting cab.

FARMERS TO WORK ON COUNTRY ROADS

Six Days Shall They Labor
For The Public.

Fiscal Court Probably Will Give All
a Chance To Display Their Ability.

STATUTES GIVES THE RIGHT.

From a reliable and authentic source comes the statement that McCracken farmers will be given an opportunity to display their knowledge of road building next year. It is stated that fiscal court will require each farmer to work six days out of the year on county roads in addition to contributing a road tax, as provided by statutes. It is the result of "grumbling" on the part of some farmers as to McCracken county's roads.

Many complaints have come from different sources relative to "this road and that road" and "how much better I could work the road." Such talk has set members of fiscal court to studying and realizing that no road improvement bonds can be issued this or next year, steps to better road conditions are already under consideration.

The statutes provide that every farmer between the age of 18 and 52 years of age may be compelled by fiscal court to work at least six days on county roads. Besides this the board may fix the road levy at whatever figure the magistrates believe it should be, according to the work mapped out in advance. Heretofore McCracken county farmers have not had to work roads as they do in some counties. Many have furnished teams to work them, an inducement to get the road improved.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.—Three ciphers have disappeared from the amount taken in the alleged $250,000 mail robbery on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad train recently. Postoffice Inspector Kimball yesterday received word from the officials at Denver that they had not yet found the thief nor the two mail pouches stolen, but that they had found that the amount taken was but $250.

DICK FOWLER CHOSEN BY CAIRO CITIZENS

The Hopkins Will Carry Evansville Crowd To Meet President.

It is not announced officially, but it is practically assured that the steamer Dick Fowler has been chartered by the city of Cairo and the business men to accompany President Roosevelt from Cairo to Memphis, when he makes his trip down the Mississippi river in October.

A meeting of the citizens of Cairo was held Tuesday night and the chartering of the Fowler agreed upon, and it is believed the official letter will be received by the owners today. As understood, the boat will leave Cairo October 3 and go to Memphis. The Fowler will return October 6, to resume her regular trade.

It is an honor that the Fowler should be chartered. Before the trip will be made by the boat will be thoroughly overhauled and will be as neat and pretty as when launched. With the decorations the boat will be as pretty as any in the party, and should a speed contest be had the Fowler would be in the lead. The citizens of Evansville have chartered the steamer John S. Hopkins, owned by the same company, to take representatives from Evansville. President Roosevelt will be given a royal welcome on his trip everywhere.

EMMA GOLDMAN SAYS AMERICAN LAWS ARE TOO STRICT FOR HER

Amsterdam, Aug. 29.—American laws were made the subject of bitter criticism by Emma Goldman, the American anarchist, in an address to the international anarchist congress here. She said the statutes of the United States are so strict it practically is impossible to carry on an anarchist propaganda. Anarchy, however, is growing in America, she said, especially among the Jewish people.

WANT TOBACCO COMPANIES TO LABEL THEIR WARES.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 29.—The American Society of Equity has set on foot a movement to have laws passed by the legislatures of Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia, compelling all tobacco companies to label all their wares, showing the percentage of nicotine and other ingredients. News of this proposal was received here today.

RAILWAY CARMEN WILL NOT PARADE

Decide by Referendum Vote
Not to Appear in Line
Labor Day

At a meeting of Labor Day committee last night the Goddess of Labor contest was closed and there are but two candidates entered. Miss Helen Hannin, sister of Mr. George Hannin, the Illinois Central tinner, is the candidate of the pipelitters and tinner's union. Miss Edith Malone, of West Trimble street, is the candidate of the carpenters' union.

Tickets have been given out and union men are selling them. The young woman getting the largest number of votes will be elected. The crowning of the successful candidate follows several weeks after Labor Day.

Carmen Will Not Enter. Contrary to a first decision, when it was decided that the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen should march in the Labor Day parade, carmen will not participate in the parade. This was decided by an individual vote taken at the shops this week. It seems that few were at the lodge room when the first vote was taken, and many objected to participating in the parade, not being affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Meets At Kuttawa Today But Opponent Will Not Be Pres- ent and District will See a Red Hot Speaking Cam- paign This Fall.

BOTH WERE IN PADUCAH

In what promises to be a fruitless effort, except as a good political move, Senator Conn Linn, of the Calhoun-Livingston-Lyon-Trigg district is appearing before the district Democratic committee today at Kuttawa, to hear the complaints of irregularity in his nomination made by W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, who is running as an independent to succeed Senator Linn, the Democratic nominee. Captain Stone's presence is not anticipated, as his views on the subject have been clearly expressed. In reply to a letter from Senator Linn, inviting the conference, he said he never questions a committee's action, and he will not appear, but will continue his campaign for the office. Senator Linn says that if Captain Stone persists in his candidacy, the warmest speaking campaign the counties have witnessed will be the outcome. Senator Linn proposes to make at least a dozen speeches in each of the four counties. Senator Linn's nomination, according to Captain Stone, is irregular. He was nominated by the committee, just as was Congressman Ollie James, the nomination going by default for want of opposition. The district committee set a date for the convention, and resolved that, if no more than one name was proposed before a certain date, the nomination should go to that person. Senator Linn's name was the only one entered and he was declared the nominee. This month Captain Stone announced. Senator Linn invited him to a conference with the district committee, where Stone should state his grievance, agreeing to abide by the decision, or by that of the state central committee, should Stone see fit to appeal. Stone replied that the committee had acted and that he would not go "behind the returns." The committee is in session this afternoon. Senator Linn was in the city this morning on his way to Kuttawa.

ADAMS IS DISMISSED IN THE POLICE COURT

Could Not Prove State Organizer of Carpenters
Had a Gun.

When the case against J. W. Adams, state organizer for the carpenters' union, charged with carrying concealed a pistol, was called this morning in police court there was a crowded court room to hear evidence. Nearly every striking carpenter was on hand, and other union men were also in attendance. Adams was dismissed, the evidence failing to show positively that he had any weapon. He was represented by Attorney John K. Hendrick. Adams went to the new school house under course of construction, Jackson and Twelfth streets, with several other union men to confer with non-union men at work there. Hot words followed and Aaron Tilley, one of the non-union men, it is alleged, picked up a brick to throw. It is alleged that Adams called him a name. A companion disarmed Tilley and a warrant, charging Adams with carrying a pistol followed. Non-union men thought they saw a muzzle of a pistol protruding out from Adams' hand. The evidence showed that Adams was left-handed and that no one ever saw him with a gun.

TWO NOISY BURGLARS EXPOSE THEMSELVES

When Jack O'Connor, a well known Illinois-Central machinist, passed Mack McChesney's grocery store, Twelfth and Jefferson streets, last night about 12 o'clock, he heard voices and saw the front door standing open. He was across the street at the time, and suspecting burglars were in the store, raised an alarm. The burglars, two in number and white men, ran out of the door and escaped. Patrolmen were summoned but too late to give chase. Mr. McChesney was notified and an examination showed they secured but a few cents out of the cash drawer. Entrance was effected by breaking open the front door.

SEWER DISTRICT, NO. 2 IS UP TO INSPECTORS

Sewer district No. 2 has been completed and is ready for inspection, the announcement of its completion being formally made to the board of public works by Thomas Bridges' Sons yesterday. At a special meeting it was decided to begin inspection of the district Friday. The inspection will be made in automobiles furnished by the contractor and will begin at 1:30 o'clock. It will require several days to complete the inspection.

LIGHTNING, WIND AND RAIN STORM

River Men Have Serious Time
During Brief Gale.

Buildings and Boats Struck at Smithland During Severe Visitation Yesterday.

ILLINOIS FARMER'S ESCAPE.

Although the wind did not do any damage here yesterday at noon it was blowing a gale on the river, and reports received this morning indicate the wind was more severe up the Tennessee and Ohio rivers. The steamer Chattanooga arrived here late yesterday afternoon from the Tennessee river minus any stage, which she lost up the river. The boat was about 15 miles from Paducah, when the wind came up and she was forced to the bank. A strong current of wind caught the stage and in a moment one guy wire snapped, leaving the stage free to swing. Before deckhands could replace the rope or secure a hold of the stage another gush came and blew the stage another toward the bank and struck a tree. The stage fell into the river, but no damage of any consequence was done the packet. The stage was tied securely and the boat came to Paducah, where another "boom" will be secured.

The Mary N. was out in the river with a raft of logs about Davis point, below the city, and the wind carried her over to the Illinois shore. The little boat could not resist the wind and she was blown against the bank, but the crew made a secure landing and remained at the mooring until the wind subsided.

The Joe Fowler, the Evansville packet, encountered the wind up the Ohio river and was forced to the bank. This was the second hard wind the Fowler was in on this trip, but no damage resulted. Rivermen on boats in the lower river did not have any trouble with the wind.

Metropolis, Ill., Aug. 29. (Special.)—Lying under a splintered tree, beside his damaged wagon and three dead horses, Alvin Pierce, a Massac county farmer, three miles from Metropolis, was picked up yesterday afternoon by members of his family and taken home, where he revived from a lightning shock that struck the tree under which he had taken shelter. He was working in the field with three horses when the storm came up. He hurried with the horses and his wagon to the friendly shelter of the tree. He tied his horses around the wagon bed, in which he placed their feed. Lightning struck and splintered the tree, and running down wrecked the wagon bed and killed the horses.

When Mr. Pierce did not return to the house, the members of the family, who heard a terrific clap of thunder, hastened to the field and found him lying there apparently dead. He will recover.

Lightning at Smithland.

Smithland, Ky., Aug. 29. (Special.)—The most severe electrical storm that has visited Smithland in months broke out about noon yesterday. A gasoline huckster's boat at the wharf was struck and set on fire, but the owners rushed down to the wharf and extinguished the flames before serious damage was done. The colored school house was struck, but no one was in it, and the residence of Thomas Davis, at the edge of town, was set on fire by lightning. The fire was extinguished with little trouble.

Elected President.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—James B. Curtis of New York, was today elected president of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at its thirty-ninth biennial convention at the Auditorium hotel.

MALARIA A SYSTEMIC BLOOD POISON UNDERMINES THE HEALTH—LAYS THE FOUNDATION FOR DISEASE

Malaria comes from the absorption into the blood of germs and microbes which destroy the rich, nutritive qualities of the circulation and reduce it to a weak, watery, disease-spreading stream. The healthy color of the skin is given to it by the millions of little red corpuscles which are in the blood. These are the carriers of nourishment and health to all parts of the body; in other words the very life and vitalizing essence of the circulation. The destruction of these corpuscles by the malarial poison takes the color from the cheek, and in the first stages of Malaria we have pale, sallow faces, poor appetite, a bilious condition is set up, and we feel "out of sorts" generally. But Malaria means more than this; it is a systemic blood poison, which undermines the health and gives rise to innumerable and sometimes serious disorders and diseases if the poison is allowed to remain in the blood. As the blood becomes more and more polluted with the malarial poison, the digestion becomes deranged, chills and fever are frequent, skin diseases, boils and carbuncles, and sores and ulcers break out on the flesh, and after while the foundation is laid for other diseases which either prove fatal or permanently undermine and wreck the health. Malaria can only be worked out of the system through the blood. Purging the liver and bowels with strong, nauseating cathartics can never remove the trouble because they do not reach the blood where the germs are constantly multiplying. The only hope for a cure is a remedy that can destroy the germs and microbes, and neutralize the bad effects of the poison, and S. S. S. is the medicine to accomplish this, because it is a perfect blood purifier and a general systemic remedy of unequalled value. S. S. S. searches out and removes every trace of the malarial poison and puts the blood in such rich, healthy condition that sallow, anemic complexions take on the ruddy glow of health, the liver and digestion are righted, the appetite improved, the system vitalized and strengthened, and every symptom of Malaria passes away. Malarial persons will find S. S. S. not only a prompt remedy but a gentle, pleasant-acting one, as well as a certain cure for this disease. Besides removing the cause of Malaria S. S. S. builds up every part of the system by its fine tonic effects. Persons living in a malarial section should, at this season, fortify their systems against this insidious disease by purifying their blood with a course of S. S. S. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free of charge.

ORDERS FROM HEADQUARTERS.

War Department Revises Regulations at Educational Institutions Where Military Courses Are Given.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Because of some necessary changes in the character of arms furnished educational institutions at which army or naval officers may be detailed and because of inconsistencies in the original order, the war department has made a revision of the regulations and instructions on this subject, which have been published in the form of a new order.

Among the provisions is that no detail of an officer on the active list, as professor of military science and tactics, is to be made at any institution which does not guarantee to maintain at least 100 male pupils over 15 years of age under military instructions. No detail of an officer on the retired list is to be made to any institution of certain classes, known as "A, C or D," which does not guarantee to maintain at least 75 male pupils over 15 years of age under military instruction. These classes cover institutions whose organization is essentially military which maintain a course of military instruction equal or superior to that required of state land grant or agricultural colleges and institutions where military instruction is regarded as nominal.

Where it is practicable a detailed retired non-commissioned officer is to report to the officer on duty at the school or college for instructions as his assistant.

HORSE CHUM DEAD; ENDS LIFE.

Iowa Farmer Obligated to Kill Equine Comrade.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 29.—Unable to bear the thought of separation from his favorite horse, G. A. Long, a prosperous Swedish farmer at Atlantic, killed the animal and then ended his own life.

Long was an ardent lover of horse-flesh. All his surplus cash went into fine stock and he particularly admired a horse for which he had paid $500. The animal also showed his regard for his master and the two were constantly together.

Recently the animal developed symptoms of glanders, and Long thought he could never be cured. He spent hundreds of dollars upon the animal in veterinary fees and finally killed the horse and himself.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today and she had a good trip.

The Mary Michael left this morning down the Ohio river.

At last Capt. Gent has left with his show boat. This morning rivermen were looking down the river for a last glance as the showboat went paddling down. It is understood the boat has a medicine company aboard and will give exhibitions at the landings.

The Clyde left last night for the Tennessee river with a good trip. This trip the Clyde took the rest of the old saw mill.

The Charles Turned was coaled and stored this morning and left for the Tennessee river with empty barges after a tow of ties.

The Lydia has been let into the river and is waiting for orders. She is as neat and trim as when built.

The Emma has gone to Mt. Vernon with the two barges repaired here on the docks.

The Bettie Owen had a good trip over the river this morning.

Employees of the dry docks do not need lines and seines to catch fish for when they see one of any size they jump in after it, and generally bring it out.

This morning the docks were being raised light and the pumps were working in a hurry. When the water was about three feet deep on the docks, suddenly there was a splashing and foaming of the water that indicated there was something big. Ed Martin was working on one of the pumps and he did not wait for a second warning, but jumped from the pump into the water. Ed landed on the fish but he did not stay there, and for some minutes he and the fish had a tussle that was worth seeing. One moment Ed would have the fish in his arms and the next the fish would have glided out. All the while the employees were enjoying the sight and offering Ed plenty of advice.

Soon Ed found he could not hold the fish and he tried sitting on it, but this was a difficult proposition. By this time Ed was thoroughly soaked and a little bit tired, the fish had used his fins to good advantage and Ed was a little mad so he gritted his teeth and went blindly after his prey once more. This time he was successful and when he clambered out he held a buffalo fish, weighing 16 pounds. Little time was lost in cleaning the fish. It was given to the watchman's wife and the employees had a fish luncheon today.

The Saltito went to the elevators yesterday morning and took on 500 sacks of grain and added largely with St. Louis offerings with her full capacity of passengers and round trippers, and departed in the evening on time. * * * Billy Keith, chief clerk of the steamer Peters Lee, which is tied up at Memphis on account of the low stage of water on the Ohio river, arrived here from Memphis yesterday morning by rail to visit his aunt and sister. He is looking in good trim and was receiving congratulations from his numerous friends.—St. Louis, Globe-Democrat.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth not much change during the next 24 hours. The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo will continue falling during the next 24 hours.

OPINION

RENDERED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL ON LOCAL OPTION.

Illinois Measure Interpreted By the State Department of Justice for Counties.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 29.—Attorney General Stead has handed down an opinion on the local option law in which he solves the "knotty problem of statutory construction of the words 'precinct' and 'election district.'"

States Attorney Van Winkle, of Morgan county, presented the question by citing the case of the city of Jacksonville is an election precinct comprising twelve voting districts. The attorney general holds that the proposition of becoming anti-saloon territory must, in counties not under township organization, be submitted to the voters of the entire precinct, and that the word "precinct" applies collectively, and not separately, to the twelve districts which go to make up the Jacksonville precinct. He further holds that the petition of the voters in any one district would not give that district alone the right to submit the question of anti-saloon territory.

"Toyland."

From the home of all toys comes the latest success "Toyland" adopted from an old German legend by Sam Morris. The scenes are laid in the quaint old city of Nuremberg during the annual masked carnival and revolves round the shop of a celebrated toymaker, one Fritz Heine, and the masked doll which closes the carnival.

Fritz Heine, Sr., learns that by saying a certain incantation and pray at the proper time he can bestow life upon his greatest work, a doll of unusual perfection carved in likeness of the village belle. Preparations are made for the crowning event of the old man's life and he takes his son into the secret promise.

Decide.

New York, Aug. 29.—Magistrate Furlong may possess the wisdom of Solomon, but if he does it was off on a vacation. Miss Annie Answacks, of 22 Malto street, East New York, and Mrs. Harry Schneider, of Linwood street and Vienna avenue, both lay claim to a dog. The court attendants called it a plain coach dog.
The rival claimants asserted that it was a real Dalmatian, with ties of consanguinity with the Valderbilt Dalmatians. Miss Answacks called it her Fanny; Mrs. Schneider called it her Alexandrie. The magistrate merely whistled. It responded quicker to the magistrate. He patted the dog and waited. Then he had an inspiration—the magistrate, not the dog.
"Bill," said he to the fat court officer, "call the dog by one of those names."

"Come here, Fanny," said the officer. The coach dog jumped up, furiously wagging his tail. Miss An-swacks and her following turned looks of triumphant scorn upon the Schneider adherents.

"Here, you, Alexandrie," said the court officer. The dog pranced back, tail still wagging. The Schneider faction grew cheerful again.

The magistrate puckered up his lips; that's all. The "dog" saw the motion. It waited for no sound, jumped over the rail and into the magistrate's lap.

"He's yours, Mrs. Schneider," said
the court.
"I'll go to the highest courts," said Miss Answacks, "for it's not Alexandrie, but Fanny."

Both of One Mind.

A fat Irish woman, bearing a number of bundles, entered a crowded tram car. The only semblance of a seat she could find was a small space at the right of a disagreeable youth.
Into this space, sufficient only for an individual of ordinary size, the fleshy Irish woman squeezed herself, much to the annoyance of the youth. After a moment or so the Irish woman produced a cheese sandwich, which she proceeded to devour with every evidence of relish. At this the youth gave her a look of ineffable disgust, and drew the skirts of his frock coat close to him. "I suppose, me lad," good naturedly said the woman,
"that ye'd pray-er to have a little man sittin' fixt to yer?" "I certainly would," snapped the youngster. "So would I," calmly responded the fat person.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

RE-INFORCEMENT FOR GEN. DRUDE

Existing Conditions Now Remain Unchanged.

Moors Are Again Repulsed Before
Casablanca By French Soldiers.

REPORT THAT SULTAN KILLED.

Paris, Aug. 29.—It was officially announced last night that General Drude, in view of the situation produced by the proclamation of Mulai Hafid as sultan, and an order to be prepared for all eventualities, had asked to be reinforced by two battalions of troops. Orders were accordingly sent to Oran, Algeria, for the dispatch to Morocco of reinforcements.
Beyond this, the existing conditions remained unchanged.

Moors Again Repulsed.
Casablanca, Aug. 29.—A sharp engagement between the French and the Moors took place yesterday afternoon at about six miles from General Drude's camp. A reconnoitering party of Spanish came in touch with the enemy who opened a heavy fire on the cavalrymen. The latter replied with effect, but retreated under instructions with the object of attracting the attention of the French commander to the Moors' advance.

Reinforcements with artillery were promptly forwarded to the scene of the fighting with the result that the Moorish force was driven back into the hills. No loss on the French side was reported.

To Organize Police.
San Sebastian, Spain, Aug. 29.—A joint Franco-Spanish note was handed to Mohammed Gabbas, Moroccan minister of war, yesterday, requesting that measures be taken to organize an international police force at ports of Morocco in conformity with the decisions of the Algeiras conference. A Tunis dispatch says that Lieutenant Causse, of the department of native affairs, has ordered Mogador to organize police.

dent of the Tribune telegraphs his rent that Sultan Abdul Aziz has been assassinated in the palace at Fez.

Twenty Killed.

Tangier, Aug. 29.—Advices received here from Fez say that the Zrahna tribe recently attacked and defeated a column of the sultan's troops sent to collect tribute from the tribesmen. Twenty of the sultan's soldiers were killed during the fighting.

Root Will Meet President?

New York, Aug. 29.—There was a report, which could not be verified, today that Secretary Root had planned to meet President Roosevelt at the Larchmont Yacht club at Larch-ject of the conference was not stated.

According to the report, Secretary Root will make the journey in an automobile and the president will cross in a yacht. Secretary Root tomorrow will attend the funeral of his brother at Clinton, N. Y.

A CROWN OF GLORY

As Well as a Mark of Beauty Is Luxurious Hair.

It has been truly said that the crowning glory of our race is a luxuriant head of hair.
It used to be thought that this was one of the blessings which the gods bestow capriciously, and it is only recently that scientists have discovered that its beauty is dependent upon the absence of a minute germ which flourishes in the hair follicles, where it destroys the life of the hair.

To restore this life and kill the germs which cause the mischief is the mission of Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide surely kills the germs,
and is the best hair dressing on the market.

It contains no grease or oil, neither will it stain or dye.

FOUND PRECEDENT FOR FINE.

But Adeo Thinks Venezuela May Have Trouble.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Mr. Adeo, acting secretary of state, today found an amusing feature of the action of the Venezuelan court in assessing a fine, which may amount to $15,000-000, against the New York and Ber-nandez Asphalt company upon its conviction of having financed a revolution against the Castro government a number of years ago. Mr.
Adeo referred to the statement that the court found a precedent in the United States for the assessment of huge fines against a corporation that had offended the laws of the country in which it operated, and Mr. Adeo, commenting on the aptness of the Latin court in following American example, said:

"The court will not so easily find a precedent for the collection of such a fine. In Venezuela the word 'precedent' appears to be spelled 'president.'"

COLLIDES WITH SWITCH ENGINE
AND TWO ARE KILLED.

Lake Erie Steamboats Go to Bottom,
When They Collide—Crews
Are Safe.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 29.—
The Florida limited on the Queen & Crescent collided with a Southern switch engine near here today. Engineer Carter was instantly killed and Fireman Thompson fatally injured. Both lived at Somerset, Ky.
Both engines were demolished, but the passenger coaches remained on the tracks.

Steamers at Bottom.

Toledo, O., Aug. 29.—As the result of a collision last night the steamer G. Brower, for Chicago, with coal, and the freighter Isaac L. Elwood, bound down with iron ore, are resting on the bottom of Lake Erie near Barpoint Light today. The boats sank in 33 feet of water, but owing to their immense size in decks are above the water. Crews are safe.
Both vessels are reported in bad shape.

PRESERVE INDIAN PICTURES

Ethnologist Restores Drawings on Naches Valley "Painted Rocks" in Washington.

North Yakima, Wash., Aug. 29.—
The celebrated "painted rocks," in the Naches valley, have been restored to the original color and outline by L. V. McWhorter, a distinguished Indian ethnologist, who visited the valley for that purpose and who had the assistance of Mrs. Lee C. Delle, a local photographer. Between forty and fifty "photographs," as they are called, have been restored, and should last for another century. Mr.
McWhorter says the pictures are not of great antiquity, probably a little over a century old.

The Indians have a tradition that the spirits which haunt these cliffs come forth periodically and retouch the photographs and those who have not seen the "paleface" at work lately are finding confirmation of the theory.

Photographs of the retouched work are to be submitted to an expert on the art of picture story telling in the hope that the meaning of the photographs may be found and further light thrown upon the history of the Yakima Indians. Some of Mrs.
Delle's photos will be used among the illustrations for the history of the valley which is being prepared by A. J. Splawn.

Mr. McWhorter is anxious that a local historical society be formed with a view to the preservation of all interesting relics of Indian life.
There are many private collections of articles of Indian art and warfare and these, he thinks, could be loaned to the public library and an interesting museum would result. Mr. Mc-Whorter's scheme will probably be taken up by some of the residents and a society formed.

Great Britain Apologizes.

Georgetown, British Guiana, Aug.
29.—The governor of the colony has sent an apology and expressions of regret to President Castro, of Venezuela, for the invasion of Venezuelan territory, reported August 17, by Capt. Calder, in command of a small frontier force, and the seizure of a quantity of Balata gum, which was alleged to have been collected on British soil.

he accidentally shot himself.

LONG HOUSE

WANTED BY LOUISVILLE AT RED
MEN'S CONVENTION.

Will Make Strenuous Effort To Secure $500,000 Building and Headquarters.

Louisville, Aug. 29.—Louisville is very much in the fight to secure the Long House of Improved Order of Red Men of the United States; in other words, the permanent headquarters of the order, which is soon to be established. This will necessitate the erection of an office building to cost not less than $500,000. The Commercial club will assist in the fight, and will send a committee, consisting of R. S. Brown, Pink Varble, R. W. Brown and Judge J. H. H.

Moore, to Norfolk September 9 to co-operate with a committee of local Red Men, composed of Judge Moore, Al Englehardt, Jr., W. A. Crader, H.
V. Cohen and William Astroth. Gus
A. Ellerkamp, of Louisville, is a member of the committee on permanent headquarters.

The fact that Mr. Ellerkamp is a member of the committee on permanent headquarters is especially fortunate, in view of the fight to be made.
W. A. Crader is the grand representative from Kentucky to the grand council. The committee of which Judge Moore is the head has already done a great amount of preliminary work. Local real estate men are cooperating with the Louisville delegation, and a number of especially desirable sites at reasonable figures have submitted. Norfolk will be flooded with handsome souvenirs of Louisville on the occasion of the coming meeting.

AFTER FAKE MEDICAL MEN.

Frauds Find Rich Harvest Among Visitors to Famous Eastern Summer Resort.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29.— Aroused by the disclosures of the wholesale illegal medical practice of so-called "doctors" who reap a rich harvest from unsophisticated hotel patrons during the summer, local physicians, headed by Dr. E. E. Parker, have started a crusade to jail offenders and drive the frauds from the city. Arrests of at least a dozen of the fraudulent practitioners, against whom a corps of private detectives have been busily gaining evidence, will be an early step taken by the Atlantic City profession. County Prosecutor Abbott having notified Dr. Parker that his office would cooperate in the movement.

The scandal of the illegal practice of medicine in resort hotels will probably involve both the county and the state medical societies. Appeals have been made to both sides, and lists of legally examined doctors entitled to practice in New Jersey have been forwarded to the local head of the crusade by Secretary John W.

Bennett, of the state board of medical examiners. Comparison of this list with names of physicians whose practice has been traced by detectives shows that not one of a score or more has taken the prescribed examinations.

Further investigation has shown that strangers, claiming to be physicians, have made agreements with hotel proprietors to board with their families in the house for the summer in return for recommendations from the desk when guests call for medical attendance. Some of these "doctors," it is alleged, are medical college students, who have failed to pass examinations in any state, and without even the formality of opening an office an office are reaping a richer harvest than many local officials of high standing.

"Many local physicians suddenly found their lucrative hotel practice shut off," says Dr. Parker, "and investigation disclosed the presence of a small army of these unregistered practitioners. While some few have small practices in other states, which they can give up for the summer, the majority we intend to prove are unsuccessful students of the lowest character, from Philadelphia and New York institutions.

"Hotel proprietors are undoubtedly ignorant of the conditions and of the stern law on the subject, that requires a license for every physician practicing in the state. Many of these "quacks" are not only able to cover their expenses of a summer seashore outing, but clear up big money besides. Our detectives have found that some of these hotel "doctors" are really doing a business larger than many local members of the profession, who have passed the stern New Jersey examinations and have diplomas, and we intend to either run them out of town or put some of them in jail."

Painting the Lily.

Fashion in flowers has taken a freak turn in Germany of late and there is great demand in certain circles for blooms of hues not found in nature.

The flowers are cut with extra long stalks a few hours before they reach full maturity. Then the stalks are put in water in which aniline dyes have been dissolved. White carnations, lilies and pansies are the easiest to dye and give the most natural results.

As the stalk sucks up the water the aniline pigment is carried through all the fine vessels of the blossom and deposited in its cells, so that after a few hours its color is completely established. Sometimes strange and even beautiful effects are secured by stopping the coloring process before it is complete. The white petals will then be delicately veined with green or red—these being the colors most successfully used.

Since the discovery that the flowers are simply dyed is a great outcry among floriculturists, who pronounce the process an outrageous fraud on nature, both inartistic and vulgar.
This does not prevent the demand for the dyed flowers from spreading.

ABOUT PUBLIC WORKS.

When anybody with a demand for the improvement of a street or alley presents it to the councilman from his ward, that councilman's capacity as a legislator is measured by his ability to get the improvement allowed in whatever manner the petitioner suggests. Then it is put up to the board of public works to attend to the execution of the will of the general council, and to the city engineer to do the work, according to the ideas of the petitioner, regardless of whether or not that is the cheapest and best way, or whether it contravenes the carefully studied policy of the engineering department.

That over-buried official now has more work piled on his department than he can get done. The result is that councilmen can wash their hands, and inform their constituents that they have done their duty in the matter. The city engineer is an expert, acquainted with the municipal work and the situation in all parts of the city. The board of public works is an executive arm of the municipal government in much closer touch with the needs of the streets and alleys than are the members of the general council, and much less liable to influence. One councilman desires certain work done in his ward, another is equally insistent on a certain improvement in his ward. It is natural that they should make common cause, and thus are all the plans of the executive and engineering departments upset for the sake of holding a few votes for the councilmen.

To make the city engineer but the creature to carry out the instructions of councilmen, who know nothing about engineering, to perform his work without system and without discretion, is a perversion of the functions of his department. Every improvement asked of the general council should be referred to the board of public works and the city engineer for their approval and direction, before being adopted by the general council. In this way, not only will the best results be obtained, but councilmen and aldermen will be relieved of the necessity of obeying
the demands of their constituents, by showing that they can do nothing until the matter has gone before the board of public works.

CRAPS OR CATS?

There seems to be a good deal of unnecessary shooting on the streets of nights, and seems to us that the police might get busy. The violators do not even respect Sunday night nor how many church gatherings they disturbed. It should be stopped.—

GOING DOWN STREAM IN PRETTY LAUNCH

Two Young Men From
Knoxville to New Orleans
By Water

In the neatest little boat that has been in the wharf this summer J. M.
Hardison, of Knoxville and J. C.
Quentil, of Chattanooga, are here en route from Knoxville to the gulf.
The "Swannanoa" is the name of the launch and gasoline is used as a motive power. Throughout the boat is built of oak, and fitted out with every convenience.

The young men left Knoxville a month ago and have taken their time coming down the Tennessee.
They do their own cooking and house keeping, and say they enjoy it. Stops have been made at every town, but Paducah has been the first city they have reached, and they have been here several days. Several trips over Paducah and to the park have been taken and they are impressed with the cleanness of the streets.

Both are prominent young men of their home cities. The trip so far has been devoid of accident and one round of pleasure. Excursion parties have been taken out at several places and in this way expenses of the trip have been made. They do not expect to reach the gulf until autumn, and will spend the winter there. From here they intend going to Memphis.

FIRE AT WOODVILLE CAUSES EXCITEMENT

Woodville, Aug. 29, (Special).— But for the timely discovery of fire in G. E. Haddox's general merchandise store a serious loss was averted last night at 8 o'clock. The store had not closed and there were several patrons in the store talking, when it is supposed someone dropped a lighted match. Cotton was packed and stored under the counter and it flared up. Buckets of water were quickly brought in and poured on the fire, while others seized brooms and held the flames in check until extinguished by water.

on the charge of bootlegging, and was held over to the federal grand

Oak, and was enroute to town when Wade Brown, deputy United States marshal, saw him. Brown followed and on arriving in Paducah arrested West.

CLEVELAND.

New York, Aug. 29.—Attention has again been attracted to former President Cleveland by the announcement from Princeton, N. J., that he had given up all hope of leaving his home for his customary summer vacation in New Hampshire because of the state of his health. Mr.
Cleveland has been troubled with attacks of acute indigestion for a number of years and each attack has been more severe than the one that was before.
His physicians have prescribed rest and quiet. Mr. Cleveland therefore denies himself to visitors, but it is said at his home that his condition shows improvement.

"What's the matter dear," asked smiting lyres."

Whereupon, to ease his soul in forgetfulness, he chorused out six books

BICYCLES STOLEN AND USED BY BOYS

Bicyclists are experiencing a great deal of trouble from boys who steal wheels from the street and ride them until tired, leaving them any place where they happen to be. In some instances wheels have been taken from porches and even offices.

Mr. A. A. Lavro, of 1525 Broad-street, reports that some one entered his hall and stole his wheel. Mr.
D. L. Van Culin, lost his from Second street and Broadway and a wheel used by a reporter for The Sun, was taken from the police station this morning.

Boys are generally responsible for the thefts. They do not try to dispose of them, but take them to ride.
The wheels are often damaged, and are found in different parts of the city. Two wheels recovered last week were found in a deep ditch nearly covered with mud back of the Illinois Central shops. Police are watching for them.

One Hundred Million Opium Smokers

The casual observer may think that the opium traffic—smuggling opium, smoking opium, and eating opium—is a minor trade, and indulged in by only a few reckless habitues who want to be wafted to other worlds. This is not so. The stamina and character of the entire Chinese race have already been so sapped by this drug that the resulting demoralization has frightened even the degraded victims of the habit. Today, China, drugged, debauched, frightened at her own desperate condition, is grappling with the vice that has her by the throat.
No such heroic effort at moral reform has ever before been made by a human government. And the Christians who debauched her are looking on, skeptically, questioning China's "sincerity." At Tien-tsin, where the Chinese officials had closed all the opium dens in the native city, Mr. Merwin found the dens in the foreign concessions, licensed for revenue by the foreign consuls, running wide open. In vain the Chinese officials protested that this laxity completely nullified the effect of their own prohibition. The consuls could not see their way clear to give up the revenue. Truly, it is an extraordinary story.

The most conservative official estimate of the opium-smoking population in China is 100,000,000—only 16,000,000 more than the entire population of the United States.
Many officials place the list at 150, 000,000.—Success.

"Have you ever tried to make your

"Not absolutely clear," answered Senator Sorghum. "If you make 'em too clear people are liable to pin you down to 'em on some occasion when polley dictates something else."

Fond of children? Extremely so.

ROCKEFELLER MUST PROVE RESIDENCE TO GET FREE.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.—Unless John D. Rockefeller can prove that he has a home he is in danger of losing the $72 witness fees that the United States government owes him for testifying in the $29,240,000 Standard Oil rebate case.

The richest man in the world, who owns a half dozen palatial residences, must satisfy the federal officials that he actually traveled from Massachusetts to Chicago and back to Cleveland to appear before Judge K. M. Landis, and until he does so the government is holding up his pay for the hour he spent in the courtroom.

No one seems to know just when Rockefeller began his journey to Chicago. The affidavit signed by the Standard Oil head in Cleveland omits this important detail.

AT CLINTON.

Fulton, Ky., Aug. 29.—A telephone message received here this afternoon stated that Walter Lampkin, of Clinton, aged twenty years, became suddenly demented from some unknown cause yesterday, and attempted to murder his entire family, who fortunately escaped, and notified the police authorities of his condition, but before officers arrived on the scene Lampkin had escaped to the country.

Deputy Sheriffs Vandorn and Craig left immediately in pursuit of the crazed man, and succeeded in capturing him at Spring Hill, Ky., after a terrific struggle. Young Lampkin was returned to Clinton, where he is being carefully guarded. He is of a prominent family. His father has resided in Clinton since last fall.

Fulton, Ky., Aug. 29.—Marion Brumell and Clarence Johnson, two prominent young society men of Clinton, who were the principals in a sensational episode in their town yesterday, were also the principals in the police court at Clinton. The two men were taken before the police judge, charged with fast driving and breach of peace. In the first case they were fined $5 each and costs. In the second case Johnson was fined $20 and Brumell $25.

After the trial Brumell and Deputy Sheriff Wash Kimball engaged in a fist fight in the hall of the court house. Kimball striking Brumell several times about the head and face. Friends interfered and separated the antagonists before either was seriously injured.

UNIFORM RULES

FOR INTERNATIONAL REGULATION OF FOODS.

Dr. Wiley May Arrange for Conference Which Will Include All Countries.

Washington, Aug. 29.—It is believed at the state department that the outcome of the present visit to Europe of Dr. Wiley, of the department of agriculture, will be the calling of an international gathering in this country to endeavor to secure uniformity of practice in the treatment of food adulterations.

It appears that there is little difference of opinion among the health authorities of the various nations as to the propriety of establishing rules for the manufacture of food and drug products in the interest of public health but differences have arisen at each stage of the attempt to frame regulations for the government of the export trade in such commodities, owing to honest difference of opinion as to the proper definition of adulteration.

"BLEST BE THE TIE."

How the Familiar Old Hymn Came to Be Written.

Not one in a thousand of those who sing that good old hymn "Blest be the tie that binds" knows the history of its homely origin.

According to the Church Electric, it was written by the Rev. John Fawcett, who in the latter part of the eighteenth century was the pastor of a poor little church in Lockshire, England. His family and responsibilities were large, his salary was less than $4 a week.

In 1772 he felt himself obliged to accept a call to a London church. His farewell sermon had been preached, six wagons loaded with furniture and books stood by the door. His congregation, men, women and children, were in an agony of tears.

Mr. Fawcett and his wife sat down on a packing case and cried with the others. Looking up, Mrs. Fawcett said:

"Oh, John, John, I cannot bear this! I know not where to go!"

"Nor I either," said he; "nor will we go. Unload the wagon and put everything back in its old place."

His letter of acceptance to the London church was recalled and he wrote this hymn to commemorate the episode.

Manager's Joke.

The man with the camera was taking a photograph of a theatrical company. A young girl, of not over 16 years with startling yellow hair tripped across the stage.

"Here comes the beloved of the gods," whispered the manager.

"Why have you dubbed her that?" asked the photographer with interest.

"Because she has dyed so young," London Tit-Bits.

GARFIELD'S TRIP
IS SUCCESSFULSecretary of Interior Familiar with Public Land Situation

Administration and People May Now Co-operate in Preserving Public Domain.

ELEVEN THOUSAND MILES.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—More effective co-operation between the administration and the people in public lands states has been reached as the result of the 11,000 mile trip which Secretary of the Interior Garfield finished when he resumed business in his office here this morning.

The trip was one of the most arduous that a member of the cabinet has ever undertaken within the limits of continental United States. Mr. Garfield traveled necessarily long distances on railroads, but whenever possible cut away from the iron tracks and on horseback explored forest reserves and cow and agriculture lands and inspected work done on irrigation projects.

He found many citizens who believed the secretary of the interior, as he expressed it, was a white elephant in Washington and absolutely unapproachable. He found thousands who had entirely erroneous ideas of the policies of the president. He placed himself in touch with public land and Indian officers and with engineers who were constructing great irrigation projects.

Denver Convention of Value.

"The result has been most satisfactory," Mr. Garfield today said. "Such a trip was the only way to ascertain conditions as they actually exist. I had been through the west many times and knew in a general way what the situation was, but the trip I just finished has given me a better understanding of the views of the people and paved the way for co-operation in securing the adoption and enforcement of the policies which are to the best interests of the persons directly concerned and the entire country."

"The result of the Denver convention was totally different from what the originators expected it would be. Upon looking over my mail this morning I found a letter from the Denver real estate exchange, which was one of the most earnest opponents of the president's policies. In this letter we are congratulated on our patient attitude and assured our trip had had a good influence, and that the exchange will co-operate with us."

It is the intention of Secretary Garfield to repeat the recommendation to congress that the leasing system be adopted both for coal and grazing lands. It is pointed out this system is pursued by several states, notably Wyoming, Utah, and Colorado, do, with respect to state public lands, and he saw no reason for the opposition of coal, cattle, and sheep men to its adoption by the federal government.

Value of the Leasing System.

"Through leasing," he said, "it would be possible to regulate coal mining, for example—that is, to require the removal of all coal. It is proposed also to aim at the prevention of monopolies through the prohibition of private interests from controlling large areas of land. I believe there should be an increase in acreage. The law now permits an individual to take up 160 acres and a corporation 320 acres. This is not sufficient in view of the amount of work and expense involved."

"What is the extent of our coal supply," the secretary was asked.

"There is a limited area," he responded. "If the development and use of coal should increase during the next ten years in the same ratio as during the last 20 years the end of our fuel supply wouldn't be many years away. The best information we have fixes from 50 to 100 years as the length of time which the known coal will last."

"What about forest reserves?" he was asked.

"I went into a number of forest reserves and found conditions good. The sentiment of the people is all in favor of these reserves, and cattle and sheep men who were opposed to them on the ground of the limitations of the grazing land now say their creation was the best thing that has been done."

Good Done by Forest Reserves.

"The result has been to increase pasture and to give opportunity to little as well as big men and not to overgraze the range. I have met lumbermen who expressed themselves as hostile to the forest reserve policy, these men saying frankly that they could no longer secure cheap lumber. Nevertheless they recognize that the policy is right. I believe the leasing system adopted for forest reserves is excellent and it is intended to urge congress to authorize its application also to the range."

"The state of Wyoming leases its grazing lands and cattlemen approve of it. They do not, however, approve of such action by the general government. I cannot follow such reasoning. Of course this is true: The form of the lease must be in accordance with special needs of the locality. For instance, in some places the lease should be based upon the number of head of cattle or sheep to each acre. In others the lease should specify the area of the land granted. But if you do not lease, the big fellow inevitably will drive the little fellow out of business."

Must Pay for Irrigated Land.

Mr. Garfield was especially enthusiastic over the condition of the irrigation works.

"When the projects under way are completed," he said, "one and one-half million acres of land will be added to the farm area of the country. This will be done without cost to the government, for every dollar put into these improvements must be paid back into the treasury."

"Of course there are many people who would like these lands given to them, and when the time comes for them to refund the money expended they will endeavor to evade the payment. I shall certainly oppose anything of the kind and shall follow the line laid down of requiring equal payments spread over a ten year period."

"The experience of private irrigation companies shows if a person makes the first payment the fact he has a stake causes him to stick to the work of cultivation in spite of the hardships and difficulties he suffers. For this reason it seems to me advisable to insist upon the payments."

There is reason to believe that during his trip Secretary Garfield did a great deal of missionary work in behalf of the candidacy of Secretary Taft for the presidency.

They Don't Know.

A Massachusetts congressman was recently conversing with a colleague who entertains more or less socialistic notions, expressed in a more or less vague way. "You fellows don't know exactly what you want," said the Massachusetts man. "You remind me of a school teacher who once had a mutinous class of pupils on his hands."

"That portion of the school who attempted this miniature rebellion, sent a committee to state their grievance, in the name of the rest."

"But the principal would have no words with them. He simply locked them in his room and went down to parley with the rank and file."

"Well," said he, "and what is it you want?"

"We want the same as the other boys up-stairs."

"What is that?"

"We don't know."—Success.

The poet gazed in triumph at his latest stanza. "Best thing I ever done," he chuckled. "I ought to get something for that, sure." However, the poem did not come within the jurisdiction of the law, so there was no sentence passed upon him.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

WEST STRONGEST
OF TELEGRAPHERSLikely that Brokers' Operators Will Be Called Out.

President Small Says $8,000,000 of W. U.'s $13,000,000 Surplus Is Gone.

SOME OPERATORS RETURNING.

New York, Aug. 29.—From today's developments in the telegraph strike it is likely that the telegraphers in the broker's offices in the financial districts will be called out within a few days and the strike will be extended to that branch of the telegraph business, which thus far has not been badly affected.

A dispatch was received by National President Small of the union from brokers' operators in the south and west, which has altered the situation considerably. The telegram complained that the quotations from New York, Chicago and New Orleans were being handled by scab operators over scab wires, and urging that every brokers' operator in the country be called out. A meeting has been called for tomorrow of this class of operators and the situation will be discussed. President Small said today that some decisive action will surely be taken.

President Small announced that he was thoroughly in touch with the general strike situation and the companies were weakening. Of the Western Union surplus of $13,000,000 he said that at least $8,000,000 had already been expended in the fight, and that if the strike lasts another two weeks the company will not be able to pay the guaranteed dividends on acquired properties. It is reported that George J. Gould has left Europe for the United States to direct the company's fight.

It was announced after the regular daily meeting of the strikers this afternoon that $1,000,000 of the $2,000,000 fund raised by the strikers would be devoted to bringing about government ownership of telegraph companies.

Prospects of a mutually satisfactory settlement of the strike appear to be no more promising today than they were a week ago. Officials of the Western Union reiterated the statement that they will not treat with the labor organization under any circumstances. At the same time the strike leaders declared that none of their hopes are based upon arbitration.

They have accepted as final the expressions of the company officials, they say, and are prepared to prolong the strike until the next session of congress, if necessary. Then, they declare, an effort will be made to have the whole question taken before the country's legislative bodies.

"We are going to keep up the struggle until the business interests of the country force congress to act," said President Small, of the Telegraphers' union today. "We will be able to hold on until the next session of congress. I do not believe the telegraph companies can hold out much longer."

Closed for a Week.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 29.—The Western Union Telegraph company opened its office here yesterday after having been closed a week on account of the strike. P. A. Williams, of Cynthiana, Ky., is in charge of the office.

Operators Back to Work.

Louisville, Aug. 29.—Fifteen more operators went back to work in the Western Union office here today. This makes 18 men who went back within the week.

Three At Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Aug. 29.—The Western Union took back three of their old operators today.

The West Is Strongest.

Kansas City, Aug. 29.—The strikers in the west are holding out better than those in the east or central sections. Ten Western Union men went back to their keys here today. This is the first instance of operators taking back their old jobs in the west.

TAKE "CUM GRANO SALIS."

Texas Ranchman Gathers Deposit of Sodium Chloride from Lake by Teamload.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 29.—An immense and practically inexhaustible salt deposit exists on the ranch of J. F. Bustlin, a wealthy stockman in Andrews county, Texas, away out on the eastern border of New Mexico, and a town is to be laid out and built there with the manufacture of salt as its leading industry. Mr. Bustlin says:

"For the last fifteen years I have had a ranch in Andrews county, and Shafter's lake is about the middle of that ranch. During dry spells I gather salt from that lake. The fresh water runs into the lake after every rain, but it soon becomes salt. As the water is evaporated by the sun it leaves a deposit of salt, thin at the edge, but increasing in thickness as you go toward the center of the lake."

"Two men haul a slide out to where the salt is about one inch thick and fill the box with salt. Then a team on the solid ground hauls the box to shore. In this way three men in two days carried out to the bank and sacked about 40,000 pounds. Sometimes there is too much water in the lake and the salt is not so good."

"I am now having a large tank or reservoir made at the edge of this lake. Into this, when the lake is 100 per cent brine, I intend to pump the brine until the reservoir is full. As the water evaporates I shall pump in more. Finally I will have a layer of salt two feet thick. Being fifty miles from a railroad, I will have no demand for the salt except what can be moved by wagon. We hope some day to obtain a railroad, and salt making will then become a great industry. I never have had this salt analyzed. I and my neighbors have used salt for several years for stock and keeping meat. When used on the table it is ground."

"The lake covers a little over two square miles. I do not know how the salt got there. The well water on the west side of town is fresh and good, but on the east the water is too strongly impregnated to be of much use."

Wrong Conclusion.

"Tompkins is dead stuck on his new typewriter."

"That's just like him. His wife probably will find it out and then there will be trouble."

"Say, is the heat affecting you? I'm talking about the machine."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

There seems to be a yellow streak in human nature that makes it always want to shift the responsibility.

Far from the Madding Crowd.
"I often have thought it would be a heaven of quiet to work on one of the top floors of a skyscraper," remarked a man whose office was one floor above a particularly noisy street. "It always seemed to me that it must be wonderfully peaceful up there, far above the rattle of trucks and all the ordinary racket of the streets down here. But some work I was doing called me to the twenty-second floor of an office building on Wall street, and now I've changed my opinion. Of course the rattle of the trucks and the cries of the boys are missing. But you can hear the bells of ambulances and fire engines just as clearly without being able to see them. In fact, you can't see anything as exciting as that at all. Of course you have the telephone bells, the sharp footfalls in the stone corridors, the howls of men for the elevators to stop, and, worst of all, the noises from the river craft. Why, to work in one of those lofty offices on a foggy day is as bad as being on a steamer at sea, for the shrieks of the whistles and the ringing of the bells in the ferry slips seem to drift up there with unusual violence. My old first story office isn't so bad, after all."—New York Press.

MURDER WILL OUT

FUGITIVE AWAKENS AND IS SURPRISED BY POLICEMEN.

Exclaims, "You Are a Policeman, You Want Me for Murder!" Then Runs.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The old saying that "murder will out," came true in an unusual way last night, when Policeman Frank Walsh awakened a man who was asleep in a doorway of the Illinois hospital, Washington boulevard and Halstead street.

The man, long a fugitive from justice, opened his eyes, saw the policeman's star and leaped to his feet with a shriek. "You are a policeman," he cried, as he stood, dazed, before Walsh. A moment afterward he collected his wits and ran, but the policeman, drawing his revolver, forced the man to stop and led him to the station.

At the station the prisoner at first denied being a murderer, but later broke down and confessed that he is Charles P. Burbage, wanted in Greenleaf, S. C., with a man named W. P. Trawley, for the murder of Gus Tanner, a negro, two years ago.

He said he was arrested after the murder, which occurred during a saloon brawl, but escaped. Trawley, he said, escaped at the time. Burbage added that he has been a fugitive from justice for two years. He is held at the Desplaines street station and authorities of Greenleaf have been notified of the arrest.

In Burbage's possession letters from the governor of South Carolina were found which purported to be replies from the governor to queries the fugitive had mailed him from Washington, D. C., asking leniency if he should return and give himself up.

The replies of the governor said that nothing but justice could be done, and apparently the fugitive decided not to return.

SECRETARY ROSE EXPECTS FIGHT FOR RENOMINATION.

Chicago, Ill. Aug. 29.—Secretary of State James A. Rose is prosecuting an active canvass in Cook county for signatures to his primary petitions for renomination. With seven candidates for this plum in the running, friends of the secretary, who has held the office for three terms, say he sees a stubborn contest.

Walter B. Westen, of Chicago, an attaché of the secretary's office, has returned to Springfield, carrying with him close to 1,000 names signed to Rose's petitions. The canvass will be continued here. The secretary has placed the political game with the Lorimer following in Cook county heretofore, and expects support from this source now, and he is said to be on friendly terms with Mayor Busse.

W. Scott Cowen, of Carroll county, chief state grain inspector, is looked upon as the state administration aspirant for secretary of state. The other candidates are: Bert H. McCann, of Bloomington, Fred Sterling of Rockford, John J. Brown, of Vandalia, Homer Rice, of Green View and William F. Lynch, of Elgin.

Barrington Goes to Pen.

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—"Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington was taken today from the Clayton jail where he has been confined for four years and through the east, Chief Sullivan, who is an admirer of Chief Wood's fire department, declares it is the tentistry for the murder of James P. McCann. Barrington was handcuffed for the first time since 1903, to Thomas W. Morgan, who was also sent to Jefferson City to serve a sentence of twenty years for murder. On arrival at the penitentiary Barrington was assigned to work as a clerk in the office of a shoe factory, a prison contracting firm.

Barrington was under sentence to be hanged here last Monday, but Governor Folk commuted the penalty to life imprisonment.

Knew the Woman.

The conductor was inclined to seek for sympathy. "Do you see that woman on the left hand side of the car, up near the front?" he asked the thin man on the back platform.

"Yes, I see her."

"The one with the dizzy hat?"

"Yes."

"Well, I think she's tryin' to beat Lang, of this city, who traded under me out of a fare. When I went in to the name of the P. C. Novelty company collect she never looked around, an' pany, was arrested today and held in I ain't quite sure that she didn't pay bail for trial. The arrest of Lang is me before—although I am almost regarded as the most important capt-positive about it. She looks to me as yet made in the crusade against like a woman who'd be glad to stir the objectionable cards. The case ing up a fuss. I can pick 'em out as far as brought to the attention of as I can see 'em. You never spot a authorities by a resident of Rome, woman with a face like that who isn't N. Y.

ready to bluff her way anywhere. I wish to thunder I knew whether she had paid her fare or not."

"I wouldn't worry about it any 'I can't think of nuthin' funny, Mr. more," said the thin man. "I paid Nexdore." "You might drop your the lady's fare some time ago—she's father's lawn mower down the well, my wife."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HOW WOMAN WON

VOTES OF THE MEN.

In a letter to a Kansas newspaper describing life on the great harvest fields of the state the following amusing story is told. Whether a true incident or not, says the Woman's Journal, the story illustrates the fact that in politics as in family affairs, the fundamental characteristics of men and women remain unchanged.

Some of the western girls are about as smart as the college boys, and they know how to "work" the harvesters as well as anyone. In Saline county at the last election a young woman ran for the office of superintendent of schools. She had a hard fight and she knew it. So she took a horse and buggy and went across country electioneering. One day just before noon she drew up to a wheat field where twenty men were harvesting. She was the center of interest at once and the men gathered around her.

"I want all you men to vote for me," she began.

"What are you going to do for us?" called out one of the men.

"I'll be a good official," she replied.

"That ain't enough—kin you cook?" came back from the group. "Yes, I can cook."

"Well, we've ben livin' on men's cookin' for two weeks out here in harvest, and if you want us to vote for you cook us a woman's meal."

"I'll do it—where's your cook shack?" she declared and alighted from her buggy. She prepared a hearty, well cooked meal for the harvest crew, and when she went away they gave three cheers and promised her their votes. She was elected by a majority of 18, so that meal was not cooked in vain.

Breathing Machines for Miners.

Consul William H. Hunt, of St. Etienne, reports that the minister of public works has recently caused to be signed a decree ordering the employment of respiratory apparatus in the mines of France. Every mine employing 100 men underground at the same time must be provided with portable respiratory apparatus, ready for immediate use and allowing a miner to remain at least one hour in an irrespirable atmosphere. The number of these apparatus must not be less than two for each pit, placed in charge of an engineer or inspector familiar with their working, and provided with ten picked men, who will be trained in the use of these apparatus and sent to the seat of danger immediately whenever the necessity arises. A year is allowed each mining company to comply with the stipulations of this decree. These precautions have been suggested by the great disaster of Courrières last year.

"Say, pard," whispered Gritty George from the end of the line, "dey say dis here judge used to be a specialist who cured deafness." "Dat so?" laughed Sandy Pike. "Well, den he certainly ought to give us all a good hearing."—Chicago News.
